

Use, Handling, and Care Manual for BarBeCube Grilling Tables

BarBeCube, LLC is committed to providing superior customer service for our customers who purchase our BarBeCube grilling tables. This is why we are excited to provide our customers with our Use, Handling, and Care Manual. Through following these instructions, we ensure you, the customer, will have not just an enjoyable, but also a safe time using our grilling tables. Before you read, however, we do feel it is important to note that failing to following the instructions in the manual could result in BarBeCube, LLC VOIDING YOUR LIMITED ONE YEAR WARRANTY. We are BarBeCube, LLC see this manual as an imperative part of learning how to use, handle, and care for our product. With all this stated, we at BarBeCube, LLC are excited to provide you with a Grilling Table that you will greatly enjoy, and that will last for years to come!

Using our Grilling Tables

It is important to first note that our grilling tables are manufactured to support the grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker, of which is specified when the product is purchased. If the Grilling Table for instance is purchased to fit a BGE smoker, then it should only be used for supporting that specific smoker. In addition to supporting the grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker, our grilling tables also provide our customers with additional uses, such as preparation space and storage. It is very important to use our grilling tables for their intended purpose, as using them otherwise may result in damages or injury. NEVER ROLL OR MOVE OUR GRILLING TABLES, NOR THEIR ASSOCIATED GRILL, SMOKER, OR OUTDOOR COOKER INSIDE AS COOKING ON A SURFACE INTENDED FOR OUTDOOR USE INDOORS CAN LEAD TO A DANGEROUS GAS BUILDUP WHICH CAN RESULT IN SUBSTANTIAL INJURY OR EVEN DEATH. Our grilling tables are built to be solid and safe, but correctly using the grilling tables can help insure years of fun to come.

Handling Our Grilling Tables

Safely Supporting the Grill, Smoker, or Outdoor Cooker

In order to safely use our BarBeCube grilling tables, it is imperative that the grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker be safely secured within the grilling table. FAILURE TO DO SO MAY RESULT IN DAMAGES FROM FIRE.

First, the grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker must be securely placed on top of some sort of fireproof barrier. For the BGE smoker, for instance, a BGE Table Nest would do the trick. Another option would be a fireproof, two inch thick, nonporous, concrete block. This prevents the heat of the grill from dangerously heating the wood surface of the grilling table, thus increasing risk of fire. Once the grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker is safely secured on a fireproof barrier, your first step to safely securing the grill is complete.

Next, ensure the grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker, is directly in the center of its intended cutout area. There should be a ¼ inch gap between the wood of the grilling table and the surface of the grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker. This will ensure that the flammable surface of the wood grilling table is not touching the heated surface of the grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker, thus keeping both products, and customer safe, and ensuring fun at your next great cookout!

Caring for Our Grilling Tables

Covering our Grilling Tables

To ensure your grilling table lasts the longest time possible, covering your grilling table when it is not in use is definitely your best option. Even though our tables are built to withstand the elements of both rain, and sunshine, weathering can still occur over time if proper measures are not taken to reduce its effects. It is also important to mention that failure to protect your grilling table from the elements can also VOID THE LIMITED ONE YEAR WARRANTY. Our Limited One Year Warranty DOES NOT cover for the effects of weathering on your grilling table, unless structural integrity is compromised. So to maintain your table for the longest time possible, we recommend keeping it covered.

One possible cover to use for our customers who use the BGE Smoker is to use the appropriately sized BGE Table Cover. All of our tables are built to fit the BGE Table Cover. If you wish not to purchase this cover, or use a different kind of grill, smoker, or outdoor cooker, other cover such as tarp or canvas should be sufficient. If you place your grilling table under a roof in an area such as a covered porch, or lanai, that should also help protect your grilling table from the elements.

IMPORTANT NOTE: ONLY COVER THE TABLE ONCE THE GRILL HAS COOLED. PLACING YOUR COVER ON A HEATED GRILL MAY RESULT IN DAMAGES FROM FIRE. AS HIGHLIGHTED IN THE WARRANTY, THESE TYPE OF DAMAGES WILL NOT BE COVERED BY BARBECUBE, LLC.

Keeping Our Grilling Tables Clean

One of the biggest concerns we have with our grilling tables are customers concerned with making what they feel a beautiful piece of furniture dirty. Those are their words, not ours. While we do like to hear nice compliments, we want to ensure that you can maintain that beautiful look for years to come. In order to do so, we recommend simply keeping the grilling tables clean. How hard is it? It isn't. Simple use a damp washcloth to wipe down the dirty surfaces once you finish using. That's it.
